14:27:04 From David Marg to Everyone:

MFP is not in 5 or 6 states.

14:27:09 From Barbara Bigelow to Everyone:

Money Follows the Person is not an available program here. Our State resources are pretty slim...!

14:27:18 From Govind Hariharan to Everyone:

Do you collaborate with EMS in your programs?

14:27:27 From Stacia Timmer to Everyone:

so typically a PASRR is done here by our Medicaid organizations. Is your PAS comparable?

14:27:40 From Kari Rostron to Hosts and panelists:

no money follows person in Utah

14:27:44 From Lianna McNeil to Everyone:

money follows the person is called different things in different states if you can't find it under that name per state

14:27:59 From Darrel Christenson to Everyone:

How have you dealt with housing and caregiver shortages when working to move people out of nursing homes? This is a National issue as we all know.....

14:28:00 From Molly French (USAgings) to Everyone:

If Karen didn't get a chance to respond to your question, please copy it into the Q&A feature which is where we'll draw from.

14:28:32 From Molly French (USAgings) to Everyone:

but first please respond to the poll. We'll close it very soon

As a small, home-rule city within Louisville, KY, we intend to link persons returning home through our partnerships with in-home services and recurring assessments to ensure their ability to thrive in the home in our city. Often, residents are not informed about community services available and what questions to ask.

14:35:36 From Darrel Christenson to Everyone:

Thank you:-)

14:36:40 From jennifer golle to Hosts and panelists:

problem in Iowa, we don't have the infrastructure across the State of providers available with enough staff to be able to assure enough hours per week and can't guarantee 7 days per week - so the lower level needs residents indeed are often in NF's.

14:36:41 From Kari Rostron to Hosts and panelists:

In Utah, we have a New Choices Waiver that will help pay for home care, meals, assistive technology etc. However, to qualify for this program, you have to go into a skilled nursing facility for a minimum of 90 days...it makes it difficult to help people stay in their homes.

14:36:57 From Darrel Christenson to Everyone:

As a former Minnesotan, it is great to see Iowa show the greatest form of flattery: replication. Good job Iowa in following Minnesota's model:-)

14:37:52 From Laurinda Lee to Everyone:

Patient Care Coordination in Philadelphia has a Nursing Home Transition Team who are contracted with Medicaid Insurance plans. We identify barriers such as housing and assist with connect with Home and Community Based Waiver Application and then support the process of transition by collaborating with the individual, facility social workers, service coordinators, family members, about the discharge plan for in-home services and equipment/supplies. We are able to be there the day of discharge and make sure essentials (groceries, furniture, etc.) are in the home at time of discharge.

14:37:58 From Esther Adkison to Everyone:

I have not been successful finding CNA's, home care providers in about a year. Oklahoma doesn't seem to have workers to do basic home needs. Out of 13 agencies not one could provide an aid for the elderly in their home.

14:37:59 From Adelaide Incoom to Everyone:

New Jersey is struggling with staffing shortages for home care as well

14:43:36 From JODY MICHAELSON to Everyone:

Ester in Oklahoma, we have huge caregiver shortage in Portland, Oregon, too - in home agencies, NF, all care settings competing for the same caregivers. Caregivers seeking other work due to COVID, seeking higher wages as housing, gas and food prices soar. I imagine this is widespread across the county.

14:44:01 From Alesa Loftis to Hosts and panelists:

Same here in Oklahoma. In home health care as well as hospitals, nursing homes and adult day centers

14:44:13 From Laquanda Clark to Everyone:

Extremely hard to find reliable caregivers right now.

14:45:02 From Darrel Christenson to Everyone:

Yes, this is a national crisis. People can make as much or more by flipping burgers than doing stressful home care. It is a no-brainer for the labor market. We need the political will to pay for quality care and keep people in their homes in the community. ADVOCACY!

NC with SPMI/SMI community transitions just started Complex Care Management pre-transition assessments, housing walk-throughs, and pre-transition recommendations and service set-up using RN and now OT Complex Care Managers working on in our Medicaid Managed Care. This to address what you rightly said for people with multiple physical health and functional skill needs co-occurring with their serious mental illness.

14:55:35 From Sherrie McDonald to Hosts and panelists:

Yes in Iowa we have CAPABLE in our area that we are piloting and it has been very successful for transition clients

14:56:05 From Alyssa Lowe to Everyone:

I am currently working on a project involving CDC and HUD and healthy housing for aging adults. What type of support would you like to receive from government agencies like CDC and HUD?

14:56:11 From Adelaide Incoom to Everyone:

This question is for IOWA has there been any discussion about waiting list and if so how long are the participants waiting and what other services can be provided while they wait?

14:56:23 From JODY MICHAELSON to Everyone:

In Oregon, we convinced hospitals of the value of the care transition program, first using our funding, then succeeded in contracting with several hospitals to pay for the service ongoing .
