

A Statistical Profile of Older American Indian and Native Alaskans

INTRODUCTION

In 2014, there were 46.2 million Americans aged 65 and over and 6.2 million aged 85 and over. The number of people aged 65 and older is expected to more than double by 2060 to 98.2 million and the number of people aged 85 and older is expected to triple to 19.7 million. Among the population age 65 and over, there are 127 women for every 100 men. At age 85 and over this ratio increases to 192 women for every 100 men.

NOW AND THE FUTURE

The non-Hispanic American Indian and Native Alaskan older population was 231,482 in 2014 and is projected to grow to over 630,000 by 2060. In 2014, American Indian and Native Alaskan persons made up 0.5 percent of the older population. By 2060, the percentage of the older population that is American Indian and Native Alaskan is projected to be almost 1 percent.

CENTENARIANS

In 2014, there were 331 American Indian and Native Alaskans (95 men and 236 women) age 100 years and over. They comprised less than 1 percent of all centenarians.

RESIDENCE

In 2013, almost 50 percent (107,141) of older American Indian and Native Alaskan lived in just six states: Oklahoma (27,765), Arizona (21,690), California (20,011), New Mexico (15,756), North Carolina (12,143), and Texas (9,776).

SELF-RATED HEALTH STATUS

During 2011-2013, 23 percent of older American Indian and Native Alaskan men and 30 percent of older American Indian and Native Alaskan women reported very good/excellent health. Among older non-Hispanic whites, this figure was 45 percent for men and 47 percent for women.

CHRONIC CONDITIONS

Most older persons have at least one chronic condition and many have multiple conditions. Two frequently occurring conditions among older American Indian and Native Alaskans in 2011-2013 were diagnosed arthritis (57 percent) and all types of heart disease (25 percent). The comparable figures for all older persons were diagnosed arthritis (49 percent) and all types of heart disease (31 percent).

PARTICIPATION IN OLDER AMERICANS ACT (OAA) PROGRAMS

In 2013, State and Area Agencies on Aging provided services to a total of 11.1 million persons aged 60 and older. Consistent with the targeting requirements of the OAA, State and Area Agencies on Aging placed considerable emphasis on services to persons with the greatest social and economic need, including members of racial and ethnic minority groups, especially those who are poor. Among the older persons who received Title III OAA home and community-based registered services, 1.2 percent were American Indian and Native Alaskan.
